A Railroad Depot Agent's Experience With the General Manager.

A dozen of us were waiting at a railroad station in Georgia. As nobody knew how long we must wait it was only natural that one after another should go to the ticket window and inquire.

"Dunno," was the gruff response to each inquirer.

That was about what was expected, and yet it didn't please. We got together on the platform and discussed the matter, and while we were talking a man drove up to the depot from the town. Seeing the crowd, he came over and asked what was up. When he had been informed, he replied:

"I will try my luck with him and see how I come out."

He made the same inquiry, and the agent looked up and replied:

"How many more times am I going to tell you I dunno?"

"Not more than once," said the gentleman as he reached for a telegraph blank.

Five minutes later he showed us the dispatch. It was to a station agent 80 miles away, and it read, "Leave assistant in charge and come down and take full possession here." The name at the end of the dispatch was that of the general manager of the road.

"How much?" he asked as he handed it in to the agent, who was also operator.

"This goes d. h.," replied the man after reading it over.

He began ticking it off as cool as you please, and when he had finished he rose up, put on his hat and overcoat and came into the waiting room.

"Have you any idea when that train will be here?" he quietly asked the man who sent the dispatch.

"She's just coming around the curve now. All aboard!" replied the agent.

And as the train drew up he was the first one to board it, leaving the office to run itself till the other man could come down.

"Did we come out much ahead on that deal?" I asked of the manager as we got seated on the train.

"Well, no-o-o, I don't think we did," he drawled. "I guess I'll send the checky ones back on the next train and raise his salary $5 a month."—St. Louis Republic.

Northern Colony in Georgia.

Emigrants from the northwest continue to arrive in Americans in small parties, bound for Wilcox county, where 60,000 people from that region will settle this winter on land purchased for the Fitzgerald colony. Ex-Governor Northern is now in Wilcox, where he has options on 50,000 acres of land in addition to that already purchased through him for the colony.

Many of the colonists are Union soldiers. As soon as the charter is granted the land will be given to them and will be laid off into town lots. The streets will be wide, and doubtless it will be one of the best laid off towns in the south. The site for the township has not been selected, nor has the name been suggested, but it is thought that one of the most appropriate names that could be given is Northern City. The colonists will begin to arrive in full force about Oct. 1. It is claimed that many of the colonists are worth from $5,000 to $50,000. The company has a capital of $500,000. They will expend $300,000 in buying the lands, and $150,000 in improvements. Sawmills and other industries will be established; schools and churches will be established also. Those who have come have met with a warm reception from the good people of that section, and a genuine old Georgia welcome awaits those yet to come.—American (Ga.) Times-Recorder.

A New Restriction on Marriage.

A most ridiculous discussion arose the other evening at a cosmopolitan dinner party. Conversation lagged slightly, and wicked Yankee launched an apple of discord in the shape of the statement, now well known in London, that a bill was being framed in the house of lords forbidding a man to marry his widow's cousin. A French lady made cutting remarks about the established church of England and its restrictions. A French colonel ponderously declared that the depopulation of France would prevent the French government from putting any such limitation on marriage, which was already difficult enough in this fair land. Sundry Americans rejoiced in a Pharisaic manner over the absolute freedom of our own beloved country, as this was evidently not a case of the prohibited degrees, and finally the discussion bid fair to degenerate into a serious dispute, when the author of this turmoil mildly suggested that as not a man had after his death taken any interest in any of his widow's female relatives, which put a sudden end to the political theological debate then raging.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Among the Heathens.

Helen, aged 4, was spending a night away from home. At bedtime she knelt at her hostess' knees to say her prayers, expecting the usual prompting.

Finding Mrs. I. unable to help her out, she concluded thus:

"Please, God, excuse me. I can't remember my prayers, and I'm staying with a lady that don't know any."

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

The invention of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., has, during the past thirty years, made a record in the cure of bronchitis, throat and lung diseases that fairly entitles it to outrank all other advertised remedies for these affections. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing consumption of the lungs.

Not every case, but we believe

of all cases of consumption, in its earlier stages, are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power, over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod-liver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write those cured and learn their experience.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1895.

A DUTY ON WOOL.

Since wool was placed on the free list the wool growers of the west have been almost driven to the wall. The market price of their product declined from about one-half to two-thirds of the tariff that had been imposed upon foreign wools. While woolen goods have been cheapened to the consumer under the free-wool tariff law the reduction has not been as great proportionately as in the price of wool. This proves that the woolen manufacturer is deriving more benefit from free wool than the consumer of woolen goods, and that an adjustment of the woolen tariff of the new tariff law would be a side.

Two great political parties, or more correctly speaking in the light of recent events, the two factions of the one great political party, differ on the tariff question, in fact that and the control of the Federal patronage, are the only things upon which they differ. One faction what is called a protective tariff, and the other a tariff for revenue only. As the expenditures of the Government, in consequence of the large amount paid to deserving persons engaged in the civil war, which is about $10,000,000 annually, are large the revenues of the Government are not equal to the expenditures. The two great sources of revenue are the duties on imports and the internal revenue tax. The latter was deemed a war measure and it was imposed with the understanding that it should be abolished at the earliest possible moment. The tax on imports under the present law does not fill the requirements of either faction of the great political party, as it neither protects nor produces sufficient revenue for the support of the Government. It therefore should be amended notwithstanding the declarations of both factions of the great political party in New York that there should be no tariff tinkering. If the protective theory of the Republican faction prevails there should be a tariff on wool or the business of growing it in the United States will have to be abandoned, and if the free-trade theory of the Democratic faction prevails everything that is imported ought to be taxed. It is but just, therefore, to wool growers under existing conditions, that a moderate tariff, say five or six cents per pound, should be imposed upon all wool and clothing wools imported into the United States. At present foreign wools are as high as those produced at home and a tariff of five cents per pound, if collected, would increase the price of wools that much. That would encourage wool growers and would not increase the cost of woolen goods to consumers materially. It is not probable that the President would veto a bill for that purpose, if it received strong support in both Houses of Congress, as it would increase the revenue several millions a year, and make the deficit that much less.

THE HONEST GOVERNMENT QUESTION.

It is a matter of public comment that the affairs of the country have been conducted in a manner that no business man would permit in his private affairs. The law has been ignored or not violated on several occasions, as a cursory examination of the records will prove to any intelligent person. While this looseness has been discussed on almost every street corner only one person has assumed the unpleasant duty of calling attention to the matter and pointing out some of the most flagrant acts through the public press, and that man is H. H. Beck. Mr. Beck declares, and his published articles prove the truth of the declaration, that he is not actuated by personal dislike of any county official. With the private and political affairs of those individuals he has nothing whatever to do, but as a citizen and a taxpayer he claims the right to criticize their official acts. For exercising this right he has been villainously assailed by every one who is a beneficiary of the Board of County Commissioners. Threats have been made against him personally and the gang has endeavored to make it appear that he is more culpable for giving publicity to the loose, if not criminal, acts of the public officials, than the officials are for violating the law.

Now Mr. Beck makes a grave charge against a public official. If that charge is false Mr. Beck is liable for damages for libel, and if it is true the public official is guilty of a felony. When the issue is so clearly defined there ought to be no hesitations as to the course to pursue. Mr. Beck should be sued for libel or the District Attorney should make complaint against the public official and proceed against him as the law directs.

A HOT CAMPAIGN IN SACRAMENTO.

The citizens of Sacramento are taking the greatest interest in the coming election for Mayor of the city. There are four candidates in the field, Wilson, Republican, Lawson, Democrat, Hubbard, Citizens' party, and Steinman, Independent Democrat. Wilson is expected to receive the greater part of the railroad vote and is backed by Frank Rhodes and other political bosses. Lawson will have the support of the Democratic organization, though many respectable men of the party are for Steinman. Hubbard is backed by the A. P. A.'s and a house to house canvass is being made in his interest. Steinman is the present incumbent of the Mayor's office, which he has filled creditably and satisfactorily. He is supported by the Police and Fire Departments and by many of the business men of the city who prefer good government to party success. At the present time it is not known which of the four candidates has the best of the fight. Rhodes, who is known as the Buckley of Sacramento, owns a saloon and a faro bank and is said to be one of the best organizers in the State. He is confident that Wilson will be elected and is staking everything on his judgment.

PREPARED FOR WAR.

Venezuela Supplied With Mexican Guns.

THE BRITISH ULTIMATUM.

England Will Stand With America on the Monroe Doctrine.

VENEZUELA PREPARED.

supplied With Mexican Guns and Other War Material.

New York, October 19.—Disclosures indicate that the Venezuelan question is approaching an acute stage with the possibility of resistance to British aggressions. The Government of Venezuela has provided itself with modern armament and among other supplies have ordered ten improved Maxim guns from the firm which manufactures them. The order was not placed through any firm, and the English it is supposed, does not know the destination of the guns.

At the same time a syndicate of United States capitalists which has secured concessions on the Venezuelan gold lands claimed by Great Britain, is preparing to send a large force of prospectors, miners and workmen into the field.

The British Ultimatum.

LONDON, October 19.—The St. James Gazette this afternoon follows up its disclosures yesterday regarding the policy of Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, toward Venezuela and the apparent determination of the British Government to uphold its claims by force of arms, by making the following important statement:

"We are in a position to state that Marquis Salisbury has sent an ultimatum to President Crespo, which not only sets out the demands of the British Government for reparation on account of the arrest of the deputation and the inspectors of Police at Bruan, but it also states the terms upon which Great Britain will definitely determine the boundary dispute with that republic."

"The ultimatum is now en route to President Crespo if not already delivered to him. This final action was decided upon by Marquis Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain before the former's recent holiday in France. Both Marquis Salisbury and Chamberlain are in perfect agreement as to the necessity of ending the frontier dispute, even if Venezuela has to be brought to terms by the means which are most effective in reaching an understanding with South American Republics."

The Presbyterian Synod.

SAN JOSE, October 19.—At the session of the Presbyterian Synod this morning the commission appointed to hear the complaints and appeals regarding the First Church of Los Angeles met. W. H. Noble presided. The deposed pastor, Howard, was represented by Attorney Galbraith and Representatives Craig and Henderson. The question before the commission was whether the appeals of Rev. B. E. Howard from the illegal errors made by the Synod of Los Angeles should be entertained.

The entire forenoon was occupied in warmly discussing this question without arriving at a decision. They resumed this afternoon. Dr. Howard has consented to deliver an address in Y. M. C. A. hall to-morrow afternoon and this may have some significant bearing, both to the doctor and the Synod of California, for the reason that the Los Angeles Synod has officially and emphatically declared the deposed pastor shall not under any circumstances speak or take part in public services.

An Old Couple Murdered.

MILWAUKEE, October 19.—A special to the Wisconsin from Hancock, Michigan, says: The bodies of Chris Kramer and his wife, aged people, were found in the cellar of their house at West Hancock this morning with their throats cut from ear to ear. The old couple were commonly believed to have kept large sums of money secreted about the house.

Hopes of Millard's Recovery.

DENVER, October 19.—Lieutenant Governor Millard's friends in Sacramento will have a special train sent up for him Sunday morning and will take him to the southern part of the State. Some news items unfavorable to his recovery have annoyed the family, but they still hope and think he will recover.

103 SACRAMENTO, CAL.

The Monroe Doctrine.

LONDON, October 19.—The Westminster Gazette commenting upon a dispatch to the Times from New York, declaring that the joint refusal of the European powers to accept the Monroe Doctrine is believed to be in Marquis Salisbury's mind, says: "There is no such thing. The Monroe Doctrine is a matter entirely between the old country and the United States, and if the time ever comes for Great Britain to take sides on the subject, we shall stand with the Americans and not against them."

Wanted to be Corrupted.

GREENSBORO, O., October 19.—Representative U. W. Hofer to-day acknowledged writing a letter soliciting a bribe of $1,500 for his vote. Hofer has been prominent in the ministry of the Christian Church for twenty-five years. On seeing a facsimile copy of his letter to the Democratic Committee in the papers to-day, he confessed, and immediately sent the Republican County Committee a letter of withdrawal.

ADVERTISING IN CARS
A NEW BUSINESS WHICH AMOUNTS TO $3,000,000 A YEAR.

The Reason Why It Has Its Limitations.
All Grown Up Within a Very Few Years.
Boston's Serious View of the Ad. Writer's Attempts at Humor.

The annual expenditure for street car advertising in the United States has in five years grown from $300,000 to $3,000,000, and is constantly increasing. Although it is yet small in comparison with the enormous amount of money paid for newspaper advertising, it is, for various reasons, a peculiarly interesting development of modern business methods. It is an outgrowth of important social betterments, a new field for the display of artistic and literary talent, and a not inconsiderable element of entertainment as well as practical information for the quick-witted American public. It is also a field curiously liable to be cornered. Newspapers may add on columns and pages to accommodate advertisers, magazines be made a few cents or pounds heavier to the same end, new publications without number be set going and billboards enlarged indefinitely. In fact, every other vehicle of advertising has a quality of elasticity that is entirely lacking in the street car method. New lines will not be started or even more cars put on to give opportunities to advertisers. Those things are determined by the requirements of local travel. And when the 10 advertising spaces in a car are filled the seventeenth advertiser who comes along will have to wait his chance for some one else to drop out.

Not infrequently the limit of accommodation has been reached in Boston and other New England cities peculiarly favored by advertisers, and applicants for space have had to wait for the expiration of running contracts before they could gain entrance. Already half a dozen firms are spending from $75,000 to $100,000 a year each in this way, at least 20 cents each expend from $45,000 to $75,000, and from 25 to 30 may be counted who put out from $25,000 to $40,000 each. These sums, it is understood, are paid for the actual rental of spaces in the street cars, the placing of the cards in them and the watching necessary to see that the cars are run according to contract. The cost of getting up the cards, which is very considerable, is outside this estimate. To make up the remainder of the estimated $3,000,000 of total annual expenditure an army of smaller advertisers, generally local only, lend their aid.

The growth of street car advertising has been to a very marked degree dependent upon and synchronous with marked improvements in street car service. It was a very insignificant feature in the old days of the horse cars prior to 1875. The low-ceiled, dingy, ill-lighted vehicles then in use carried a few plain, unattractive cards, half obscured by dust and covered by glass, the reflections from which made them difficult to decipher. Only local advertisers occupied spaces and did so rather to help a struggling enterprise or get rid of a persistent solicitor than through any hope of profit from the investment. Then, in San Francisco primarily, cable traction began to take the place of horses, enabling the employment of roomier, loftier cars, handsomer in every detail of materials, form and color than the old ones, and some genius evolved the happy idea of confining the advertising cards by moldings in concave spaces and without glass. At once the cards were made to conform to their improved surroundings. They were more handsomely designed, printed in bright, attractive colors and sometimes illustrated.

It was not until 1898, when electric propulsion had been clearly demonstrated to be commercially practicable and trolley lines were put in operation all over the country, that street car advertising began to assume its present character. As before the improvement it was in keeping with the betterment of the vehicles, which were now no longer simply comfortable, but became luxurious. The amount of interest taken in the advertising cards, as well as the vigilance of critical observation, is sometimes demonstrated by protests against some novelty within the first hour of its appearance. That is particularly likely to happen in Boston, where the committee for regulating the universe is largely represented. That committee is always in session, one of its members constitutes a quorum, and it seldom lacks things to kick at. One day, some months ago, it was moved to turn itself loose on the subject of a new card that flashed out at once in all the cars:

The men who let a lady stand
Where others push and crowd her
Deserve to have the strongest brand
Of ————'s baking powder
To rub her.

The Boston newspapers received letters of indignant protest against the advertiser's audacity in presuming to teach Bostonians courtesy under the guise of advertising his baking powder. Finally the row got into the courts over the question whether the car companies could compel the removal of the obnoxious card. The squabble was compromised, but not until that baking powder had been advertised as it never was before. In like manner in the same city another rumpus was caused by the simple query of a tailor's card, "Do you wear pants?"

The characteristic Bostonian remonstrated against the word "pants" as a vulgar abbreviation, outrageous to correct taste. In a number of cities the car companies will not permit the display of any card's advertising wares or liquor, and such things would even be contrary to law in certain portions of New England. Patent medicines, too, are viewed with disfavor.—New York Sun.

Very Anonymous.
Traveling on the Mississippi about the close of the war, we rode in the pilot-house for three or four days, and the pilot informed us that during the war, as one of the vessels was passing Vicksburg, a captain put his head out of the pilot-house and a cannon ball struck it off, the trunk falling into the pilot-house and the head upon the deck. He said that he narrated this circumstance the day after it occurred to a lady, whom he exclaimed: "Horrible! It is the most anonymous thing I ever heard of!"

These Were Made Out of Sides That Had Been Robbed.

Not long ago a Star writer had occasion to be in western Missouri. Just north of Kansas City about 15 miles is the little town of Parkville. It is built up on the two sides of a valley which opens against the broad Missouri, and the hamlet might contain perhaps 50 houses. Among other matters, however, it shelters a summary of considerable local fame which teaches both boys and girls the higher branches of an education, but with which just now we have nothing to do. The main street of the village runs along the bottom of the valley at right angles with the Missouri river.

The Star writer was sitting in front of one of the stores smoking a very bad cigar of local origin and conversing with the merchant who had sold it. It was about 8 o'clock in the afternoon, and many of the country people were coming into town. A country girl of the region came cantering up on a bareback horse and slid off on what, now that The Star man's attention was called to it, he noticed was a queer sort of horse block.

It was nothing more or less than an old rusty safe of considerable size. It had apparently lain there for years and when examined disclosed a suspicious looking hole in one side, clearly the work of explosives. At this point the attention of the investigator from the east was called to two other safes, similarly exploded and also lying on their sides in the street and doing duty as horse blocks.

"How about these safes?" asked The Star man of the Parkville merchant. "What story goes with them?"

"Nathin much of a story," remarked the Parkville merchant, helping himself to a thoughtful chew of tobacco. "Them safes have laid right there where you all see 'em since '73. They wuz dragged out there and busted by Quantrell and Jess and Frank James and the Younger brothers, along with the rest of Quantrell's gang. They come chargin down the street one day in June and took the town in about a minute and a half and then went for them safes. Money wuz mighty popular with Quantrell and the James boys, and they usually went after all they heard of."

"How much did they get from the safes?"

"I dunno how much they got from them on 'other side of the street," said the Parkville man. "They hauled $3,500 out'n mine," and here he pointed sadly at the safe nearest to him, the one on which the young rattle had just alighted.

"Was that safe yours?" was asked.

"Yes," he answered. "I kep' store then right where I do now and jest as I do now."

"Why haven't you removed the safe?"

"What's the use?" observed the Parkville man. "They ain't in nobody's way, and they do first rate for horse blocks. Nuthin there, we ain't got no extra no tank's strong enough to move 'em now. So we jest let 'em go as they lay, as they say in fero."—Washington Star.

Indian Territory Town Sites.
Ex-Senator Henry L. Davies, the chairman of the Indian commission, says that the town site question in the Indian Territory has become one of great importance. There are now about 800,000 white people in the Indian Territory. They have built up towns, but are mere tenants at sufferance, without a particle of title to the lands on which they built. The Indian courts are closed against them, as are the Indian schools to their children, 30,000 of whom have no other opportunity for schooling, excepting those whose parents are able to hire private teachers. They have no voice in the governments of these five nations, nor a police officer to protect them or their property against violence.

It will be the object of the commission, first, to obtain such a solution of the town site question that those who have built up these towns and invested large sums in costly buildings and expensive stores and trading places may have some title to the ground upon which the structures stand and some voice in their government, and, secondly, to see that the vast and valuable territory shall be held either according to the original title, for all Indians equally, or shall be allotted in severality to them, so that each may hold his own share in fee.

The Alexandrite.
Don't think that your knowledge of wonder gems is complete till you have seen an "alexandrite," green by day and red by night. And such a green—olive bronze, with a potent suggestion that red is there. Green when held in the sunlight. In a darkened room with artificial light a ruby where the emerald was a moment before—a tawny wine red of exquisite tone.—Edmund Rus.

Luck Money.
Luck money in Great Britain is the gratuitous return of 1 shilling per head on all cattle sold at auction marts, 2 shillings per score upon sheep, one penny per head on pigs up to 30 shillings in value, two pence per head over 30 shillings and up to 60 shillings and three pence per head over 60 shillings. What applies to pigs also applies to calves.
